“ One of my earliest memories of Ku Cheah was in Malaysia having a discussion with Yeh Yeh (also fondly referred to as Old Man) - I was too young to understand what was said, but I remember the way she spoke with confidence and conviction - she instilled in me what it meant to be a Fong girl.

Ku Cheah, I will always remember you as a hardworking, passionate figure of strength who never wavered in the support and love for your family. Missing you dearly, and sending our love to Uncle Tony, Melissa, Kenny and Alex.

My fondest memories of Aunt May Wan (Ku Cheah) is that she is a person full of joy. When we have our chats I would remember that a smile will surely find its way to my mouth during the course of our conversations. Ku Cheah's kindness and love for people is evident in her actions and she will always have a special place in our hearts. Your presence will be deeply missed, Ku Cheah. Till we meet again.

Much love,
David, Darlene, Jonathan & Ezra

“ Dear Aunty May Wan,

When I think of you and the moments that we have shared, the memories bring a smile to my face. You were always quick to have a laugh and exuded such warmth and always made me feel so welcome. Your twinkling eyes and warm hugs and words will be missed by everyone that was touched by your kindness.

Uncle Tony, Melissa, Kenny and Alex our thoughts are with you, now and always.

“ In memory of my treasured Ku Mah,

In many ways she has been the backbone of the Fong family. She lead not through mere words but love in action. She has been salt and light at every turn of her life. She made the most of every opportunity to be a blessing and encouragement in someone's life.

Her advice, words of wisdom, presence and joy will be deeply missed. But her legacy is carried on through Melissa, Kenny and Alex. They have so much of her in them.

As she returns to the Lord, I know for certain she is in good hands. Till we meet again Ku Mah.

“ Dearest kuma, it is really hard to put down in words truly the extent of what I feel. I guess I can only try and this is only a glimpse of it.

You have been a big part of my life and have always been around for so many my life's milestones. As i reminisce, I realised many of them were key milestones that I am so thankful you were there to be with me. You were always there everytime when I needed someone even when I didnt know.

Your generosity, unconditional love and wisdom is immesurable. Fairness, kindness and empathy are qualities that you so strongly showed all my life. You have always championed all these qualities and they are what I strive to live by too. The stories and advice that you shared so willingly during my formative years and even as an adult have shaped me to be who I am today. You always made me feel special and housed me like I was your fourth kid when I needed a roof over my head. I could always turn to you when I needed someone to talk through things. More importantly, you believed in me and you trusted my judgement even when sometimes I had doubts myself.

There is always never enough time but I am grateful for every moment we shared. From the earliest memories as a kid to the recent ones, I shall fondly remember. The relationship we shared is one so special that nobody will ever be able to take that place in my heart.

Thank you for everything. I love you and I miss you terribly. May you rest in peace.

Dear Ah Mooi (May Wan)

When I think back your early childhood with me is but a few the one that stand out most was when you were about 12/18 months on an evening stroll in a pram you dropped your pacifier. We spent a good part of late evening searching to no avail. That night you were highly distressed. The other memory that you tried to jolt my mind was if I recalled pulling your ears while trying to teach you arithmetic when you were about age 8/9 or so. I admitted not recalling but would have done so as it was the norm then.

It brings a tear in my eyes when I think back the way you address me “ Fook Koh” as Mum have taught you and the younger siblings to address me. To this day you addresses me this way and it reminds me of growing up together in a hardworking family that met challenges front on.

Festive seasons were a great joy and anticipated, so were the occasional treat that dad showered us with. We were were a happy and contented family with Mum toiling hard feeding and clothing so many of us. We did our part in helping out but but Mum was always mindful that our studies came first.

Mum and Dad endowed us a lot and Mum reinforced them by example and instilling us good virtues. Your strength of character, caring nature and always ready to help exemplifies them when dealing with people.

Your successful accomplishment with Wai Kuan in carrying out Dad’s assignment is dearly appreciated.

Thanks for honouring our parents.

Your steadfast faith in Our Saviour Jesus Christ have seen you through lives turmoil well.

Bless you Ah Mooi

Rest In Peace

Memory of you will always be with us

May was always cheerful. She was my art teacher in high school. Somehow we manage to keep in touch even after my schooldays were over. Tony, then had a full head of hair . Melissa and Kenny were very young cutie pies. I share the joy with them when Alex was born.

Thank you, May, for being part of my life.

“ My dearest and loving sister, I miss you more than words can say. I have very fond memories of you when we were young. You are fair, generous and compassionate. I remember fondly you used to ask Dad on my behalf when I needed to buy some extra equipments for school work during my High School Days.

Last and not least, I would like to thank you and Tony for looking after Mum and Dad.

May God Bless you and be with you always. Rest In Peace.

Much love,
Alan Fong

“ My thoughts and love are with you: Tony, Melissa, Kenny, Mariam, Alex and Sarah.

May Wan, my beautiful and beloved sister-in-law. You are not only a sister-in-law, but a very special friend. I can pick up the phone now, but you won't be there. I will always cherish our heart to heart chats. You always tell me that Alan is lucky to have me, and I have told you that I am also lucky to have Alan. I know you and Alan have a very special soft spot for each other.

May Wan, you will be sadly missed. God Bless, and may you rest in peace.

With lots of love, hugs and kisses.

“ Our hearts go out to you Uncle Tony (Ku Cheong), Kenny, Melissa & Alex. Thought I'd share an edited poem I wrote to Aunty May Wan (Ku Cheah) previously as she has a special place in our hearts.

What can we do when we're apart
Too far from the beat of your heart
Are those tears behind our face
For they belong in an embrace

Sometimes we're further than the star
At times you're closer than afar
Only you can remember when we first met
Letting go is weightier than sunset

Time, it keeps on fleeting
Our desire is still longing
The present with hope remaining
We will meet again, soaring

Much love, Anthony, Joanna, Kara & Elliston

“ Our dearest May, in our life journey we have met thousands of people around the world but you had special qualities that's why we got so attached to you and your family. Your passion was to help others and you had a satisfaction from that. Memories will never fade May. You will be remembered for ever. May your soul rest in eternal peace. Sadly miss you love Vajira & Rita

“ My darling sister, I only have the fondest of fond memories of you; the love, care and help you have given me will always remain in my heart. Always to be remembered, the times you would read to me as I laid too sick to study for the exams the next day, to the times in later years as we cheered and erupt into glee watching the Oz pummel the Poms in the Ashes. Farewell my dearest love of a loving sister, may God bless your soul. Always treasured, with love, Wai Kuan.

“ My dearest sister in law,the care and love you have showered me through the years will always remain in my heart with fondest of memories. Never over a moment of anger nor misunderstanding, I cherish the shared interests and moments we had of cooking, baking and crocheting; the support you have given me in my endeavours extend over a lifetime. My love always, may God bless your soul. Your ever thankful sis in law, Ping
