LIM ??? Lin Bi' É

(20May1927-30April2015)

????.....Steve Lee/Thomas Lee/Angela Kuo (in Chinese)

EULOGY 6MAY2015 by sons STEVE LEE / TOM LEE

Born into a conservative Chinese family, my mother Ah Nya Lim was the oldest of 7 children and the first in her family to accept Jesus as her Lord and Saviour. Because our beloved mother is a follower of Jesus, this eulogy is very much a reflection of her life in Christ.

In her first step of obedience unto the Lord, she underwent water baptism in a river in Borneo together with a small group of natives who had accepted Jesus as their Lord.

Great courage was one of the gifts Mum had received from God which enabled her to endure countless hardship and suffering. Her 1st 20 yrs of marriage was spent in raising her children up in far and remote plantations where food, help and medical facilities were scarce. She later landed in the wilds of Borneo spending many nights without her husband whilst herds of elephants and wild pigs rampaged through her vegetable patch.

Following a stormy night, when she heard that one of her little boys had dropped into a man hole, she somehow found strength to drag down her clothes line and calmly coaxed the frightened child to hold on to the clothes line with which she hauled him to safety . That little boy was me. (Steve): My mum saved my life that day!

Perseverance was another virtue she acquired even from young. With only about 3 years of Chinese school education, through perseverance she learnt to read and write like one who had attended secondary education.

Mum had no English, but during the months in London on a visit to one of her daughters, she learned and memorised all the routes of buses, trains and tubes of London so well that she could travel about freely on her own. When they say, "You cannot teach old dogs new tricks" Mum enrolled in English classes for new migrants at age 55 upon arriving in Australia. Through perseverance, learn she did to read and write in English and was soon practising her English with every Aussie she met and became the 'tour guide' for friends and relatives visiting Sydney.

I catch a glimpse of her when I read about the virtuous woman described in Proverbs 31, recalling how she had stayed up late into the nights sewing the clothes we wore, the blankets and bed sheets we slept in and the curtains for the home. She managed the family finance extremely well on a meagre budget, saving every cent she could without sacrificing food on the table until she bought us a family house.

Mum's favourite prayer was the Lord's Prayer, the prayer recited earlier by one of her granddaughters. A line in this prayer said "forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us". Mum practised what she prayed, in forgiving everyone who had offended her. She did not allow unforgiveness or bitterness to affect her sweet spirit in Christ. As her outer beauty faded over time, her inner beauty of a gentle and quiet spirit became more and more evident, something very precious in the sight of her God

Those who saw Mum in her last days saw her as frail and weak. But we rejoice that this will not be so the next time we see her. She shall return on the Day of the Lord with all His Saints and Angels, in a glorious new body, one which is incorruptible and clothed with immortality.

So we praise You O Lord, for AH NYA LIM's birth, for her life, for her death and for her return with You our God Eternal and King Immortal. Amen!

*++ Read by DK on behalf of sons and daughters of Ah Nya Lim :
Mama, you have left behind a fine brood of children. Your Ah Tia in heaven is proud of you. Where true charity and love abide, God is dwelling there, you are dwelling there. We love you.*

“ Aunty was almost always smiling. Though she didn't speak much she would end her speech with a little quiet laugh. On the several occasions we managed to talk she never once complained about anything. She seemed to be a happy contented senior. I think her greatest joy was looking after Jozzie who brought a new meaning to her life.

To Diana, Raymann and Jozzie who are her closest kin - temper your grief with the knowledge that you gave her your attention, your time and most importantly your love.

May Aunty rest in eternal peace.

Dear Diana,

Our deepest condolences. We've been away the last 3 days. Only checked e-mails after solo dinner tonight (Ong Koh in Miri) and realised that your beloved mum passed away 5 days ago. It's too late to send "pek kim" - Chinese tradition forbids after the funeral. Will say a prayer for her sweet repose.

You've been a very caring daughter all these years and your mum would know it. Let that be your consolation while you are grieving. Do take care of yourself after all the stress of care-giving. In Ah Chi's case I had Ah Hai, Bob and Win to share out our hospital visits but with your mum I guess you shouldered mostly on your own with Raymann's help. Aunty has gone to God and she would want you to be happy for her.
