“ The last time I saw Oom Bun was probably around 30 years ago in a new year celebration in Hong Kong. I don't remember much of the event anymore other than that it was a fun moment. It's unfortunate that I haven't been able to see him again until his passing. Please accept my condolences for the family he left behind.

“ *Om Bun has always been an inspirational figure in my life, he also has taught me a lot of lessons in life that I will always remember. He is also an active member of the community that has made countless contributions to people all around him. I will always cherish the memory I had with him, our conversations, and many stories he had shared with me. I will really miss all of the casual dinners we had over the years, especially when he cooked the best home cooked meal there is and when we always joked that Om would open a restaurant over. I also remember when my dad have a surgery in Sydney, he would spend hours looking for bakso because I was such a picky eater. I remember how me, Joan and ce Jess would poke holes in your cigarettes because we want you to stop smoking.
I also remember that I used to stay at your house and play with Mumu and Molly. there are many more memories that I could never forget.*

Om Bun was the closest uncle I had and I will always remember him in my memory.

May Om Bun Rest In Peace

I know for a fact that God has a special place for him in heaven

“ I have known Emy Yunarko, my dearest best friend since 1973. And started to know Bunawan since Emy invited me to work with her at IFF/Essence Indonesia in 1974. By that time, Emy & Bunawan were still dating.

Bun was a kind person, easy to get along with, humorous, generous and considerate with all his friends.

When we got married, Bun & Emy were our witnesses. And the friendship continues to this day until we have children & grands.

The last time I met Bun was when I visited their house in March 2019. And because of the pandemic, all of our plans to meet-up were postponed; including my plan to visit him in the hospital, which is my regret now 😞

Bunawan, you will dearly missed. RIP in the Lord - you are now in a better place. Good bye for now, until we all meet again 🙏

Our deepest condolences to dearest Emy and all the girls (Imelda, Monica & Jess). Our thoughts and prayers are with you all in this tough times. May God be your strength and comfort 🙏
Hugs from Christine & Herman ❤️
