“ Dear Michael Chong and family,

I first met your lovely mum when I visited you at your house next to the Tawau Power Station. We were attending St Patrick Primary School when there was no home work and plenty of time to play after school. So, I spent many lazy afternoons after school at your house. I always felt that your mum was always kind to me. It was a kind of refuge from the hectic life of living and working at the Bata shophouse. Whenever I visit you in Sydney, I am amazed that your mum still recognised me and remembered my full name. I still remembered her making us a fruit smoothie of apple, carrot and something else. I am very fortunate to be blessed by your mum's warm and kindness over so many years. Blessed the Lord!

“ Dear James & the Chong family,
Our thoughts are with you at this time. Remembering your mother from when she and your father were regular attendees at CCC Milsons Point, she was warm and cheerful, and helped looked after my mother during her extended stay in Sydney. Conversations with her about food and Sabah helped kept my Hakka 'alive'. Thank you for sharing her with us. Warm regards, Barney (& Lorraine) Koo.

Dear Cousin's,

It's of heavy hearted to learned of your Mum's passing. I always have some kind of feelings that she might live like her "Tai Gu" a centurion. I shared great memories of her though I may not understand much - as then I might be still at my primary school age. When she's stays at Sandakan, Sunday afternoon till evening, our house are very roasing because she's will pull all other Sisters back to their eldest brother house that's my Dad with also our Grandaunt. Though Mum can be very busy at the kitchen but I witness both my Parents having the joy flashing on their face & that's what I cherish most - a family.

Your Mum's play much her roles - a wife, Sister, Mum, Sister-in-law & the many voluntary roles to the church. To this I salute & give thanks to God's bounty blessing. As children of His - abling us to be of much use for His Glory.

As she journey to eternal home as our Heavenly Father promise, let's we too claim onto the promises.
