“ Dear Uncle Peter, Auntie Ivy and Alex,
I am so sorry and saddened to hear about Chris' passing. My deepest condolences to you and the whole family. May God give you comfort, peace and strength through this time.
Chris was such a lovely and kind-hearted brother in Christ. He would be dearly missed and it was a blessing that I got to know Chris.
Love, Emmeline Fung

“ Dear Peter, Ivy and Alex Family,
Deeply sad to hear that Chris has passed away.
Chris is truly a genuine, kind and generous person, always there to start a conversation, committed to chase his dreams and work hard for what he believes in. He is there to glue things together, especially in tough times, his lovely smile and his “can do” attitude - brings happiness to people around him. In heaven we believe he is indeed a dedicated disciple of our Lord Jesus Christ, Amen

“ Dear Peter, Ivy & Alex

We are truly saddened to hear of Chris' passing. We have lived across the road from you for more than 20 years and often would pass Chris while walking our dog. We remember Chris as a lovely young man with a quiet and gentle disposition. We always admired him for helping you tend to the garden and lawns. May he remain forever young as a son and brother in your memories and we pray for peace for your heart and comfort for your loss.

Our condolences Elliot & Debbie Date-Chong

“ 親愛的卓研，

得悉你被天父夜裏接去，
我們都感愕然和不捨。

廿五年前，我們兩家人不謀而合地一起從香港移民來悉尼定居；大家
在同一教會聚會，你和
Jason 和 Ivan 在同一學校唸書。

看着你從一個稚氣跳蹦蹦的小孩，而長大成一個成熟，善解人意的年
青人。當中走的路迂迴曲
折，崎嶇難走，你堅持和努力，上帝同行和保守，使你成為家中的天
使，別人的祝福。

卓研，你離大家而先走一步，留下你親切可愛的笑容，也留下一段與
你不捨的回憶。

卓研，我們知道主耶穌已派天使把你接到祂的懷裏，那裏沒有眼淚，
沒有悲痛。

卓研，暫別了，等待那一天與你再相見！

“ Dear Chris,

We are shocked and saddened to hear the sad news, but we are sure that you are safe in the arms of the Lord. May His love continue to surround your family, and we will continue to remember you in our prayers.

“ Although I met Chris not often, he was a cheerful, lovely sunshine boy. He expressed his concerns and talked with others about his opinion. He offered help with elderly. He accompanied with them and talked with them. He listened to voice in every people. He was such a nice and wonderful guy.

I am so saddened to hear this shocking news. I miss him. Please accept my deepest sympathies on Chan's family loss. Words can't describe how sorry at their loss. May all of you find comfort and the strength to cope. God bless you all.

“ Dear Chris:

We can never understand why God take you away so early, the only thing we know is that you are now with our Lord Jesus. That you no longer have to suffer, no more sickness, no more pain, and no more tears. I know you have peace with God now. I also know that we will meet again one day. I will miss you dearly, no words can express the sorrow. May God continue to give strength, blessing, good health and comfort to your parents and your brother family. My deepest condolences.

“ I know Chris when he was a little boy as he and my son went to the same child care centre and primary school. Chris’ mum Ivy was so kind to have car- pooling together travelling the kids to and from school for quite sometime. Chris was a happy boy and very easy going.

As he grew up to a young man, we didn’t see each other very often. But whenever he bumped into me, no matter it was at a bus stop or a supermarket, he’d come up to me to say hi Auntie and asking how my family was going. He was always gentle and polite, showing his care for everyone, and his love to his family.

I last met him was late last year at Oliver Brown. I still vividly remember our conversations, his big smiles that how he loved his job and happily told me it’s his mum’s birthday and going to have dinner together.

It’s a shock that Chris left us so suddenly. I’ll always remember his laughters, his kindness, his love for food... Chris, May you rest in peace in Heaven. You’ll be sorely missed. My sincere condolences to your family.

“ Chris Chan is always such a genuine and happy person. An encourager to both new and old friends. I’m blessed to know Chris and had been able to have fellow with him in Christ. He is a blessing to our lives.

“ I met Chris at Boys' Brigade when we were both teenagers. As we became adults, we'd send the occasional message to each other from time to time but eventually life got in my way and we lost touch. You blink and a decade goes by. I appreciate the time we had together and regret not getting in touch sooner.

I'll always remember Chris as someone with a big laugh, who never lacked for enthusiasm and gave his all to everything he did, even if it was simply playing goalkeeper with a plastic ball around a church hall.

He was always kind and always wished others well. He will be sorely missed.

My condolences and prayers to the Chan family. I'm so sorry for your loss.

“ I was Chris Chan's old class mate long time ago.. I thought about him just a few days ago wondering what he was up to, and how he is doing, to only find something on his Facebook livefeed.. He was quite a big part of my younger years of growing up in school, he taught me a lot of individuality without actually teaching me of individuality, it was all rather a learning experience to prevent ourselves from falling into the wrong group, we both weren't too flashy or sought for popularity, even if deep down we did, but in the end, we both learned valuable things growing up in school, on which I apply to myself today.. May the Lord call upon your name Chris, I'm sure you grew in the spirit more than in the flesh, even if I have not spoken to you, or caught up with you after more than a decade, your ways of being a child in my younger years, helped me to be a right man today, I'll miss you, but for sure I will see you in the clouds by Jesus Christ.

With much love,
Anton.
