“Popo is a traditional housewife who has dedicated most of her life to sheltering, providing and protecting this family in her own way. Though Popo never received mainstream education, and she always says she’s illiterate, she doesn’t understand and can’t speak the language, she is very wise and street smart. The knowledge that she imparted to us were valuable life skills, people skills and to some of us her cooking skills. She has tirelessly over the years took care of our parents and later us grandkids.

I still remember the late-night stories she told us when we were kids, the spread of food she spends the whole day in the kitchen preparing, the childhood we spend at grandma’s house growing up with our cousins and refusing to go home. Popo used to emphasize the importance of unity but little did she know she was the pillar and glue that bound us together as a family.

She has dedicated most of her life to this family, to us and we were all that she had, we were her everything!

Popo I’m very grateful for your unconditional love and all that you’ve done for us. I hope you are in a better place. I really miss you. I love you.

“ Dear Mama,

Thank you for raising me and taking care of me since I was born. You took me to school and picked me up from school and you always cooked yummy food for me to eat. I especially loved your 咕啫肉 and you would cook it for me on my birthday.

I am glad we lived together and that we were able to spend a lot of time together. I remember I would spend my nights with you while we wait for daddy and mummy to come home from work. I would lie on your bed and we would watch tv together. You always tickled me and made me laugh and I would fall asleep with you for the night.

As I got older and no longer sleep with you, whenever you go to the toilet at night, you would walk pass my room and check on me to see if I am asleep and tell me to sleep soon and not stay up too late.

Mama, now that you are in heaven, you are free from worries and pain. You have the strength and energy to do all that you want, eat all the food you love and you can spend each day in peace and joy with Jesus by your side.

Thank you Mama for your love and care and I appreciate all that you have done for me. I am so grateful to have you as my Mama and I treasure all the memories we had together. I love you always and I will miss you very much.

Love, Luxiu

“ Popo,

My fondest memory us is when i was in kindergarten. I kept stubbornly holding onto the door and refusing to leave after dinner at your place in Yishun because i wanted to spend another night with you but my dad kept forcing me to go back cos i had school the next morning. I kept crying non stop and you managed to convince my dad to let me stay the night. He picked me up earlier than usual the next day. Because we were rushing for time to avoid the morning traffic, we took the stairs instead of the lift and my vision became blurry. I tripped and rolled down the last 3 steps. My dad had to carry me back to your house with bruises all over my body but i remember being secretly happy that i could spend my entire day with you...using the small masking tapes you had pasted on the kitchen wall for me to tape all the loose hair strands around the house.

You've brought nothing but tremendous joy and love into my life. You've always been my no. 1, my superwoman and will always remain so. I know you're now in Heaven with Jesus and i pray that you've found ur mom, be filled with happiness, love and a huge mansion and have all the angels blessing you. It's been an honour being your granddaughter. I love you, popo. 我會永遠掛住你. ♥
