“ Farewell grandma.
Thank you for always asking how I was going with work and life every time I met up with you, while trying to understand my Chinese. Thank you for letting me know how much you appreciated my visits. We grandchildren will all miss your eggy chiffon cake.

Rest in peace.

“ Our dear mother lived 93 years in her earthy home. She managed many things and achieved a lot. Mum brought up 4 children and she was a tough lady. Our mother survived 10 years without our dad. Mum accepted christ into her life and she has eternal hope. Dear mother is resting in peace and we will meet again one day.

“ Mum: I still miss you a lot! 💕💕 How many times for the last whole week, I wish I could still call you a lot! From talking about nothing and everything, we could talk for a short while or hours. I was accompanied by you to finish cooking for some dinner dishes while I listened to your life stories. Whenever you didn't pick up the phone, we panicked & checked among the siblings.

Mum: where was your life alarm device? The alarm had buzzed so many times by mistake for years! Yet, when you really decided to leave us, it gave us no alert at all. It certainly alert me that we should treasure each other & our loved ones all the time. We never know when is the last opportunity to deliver the good messages.

Mum: Though I can't call you anymore on earth now, I can pray to God & reconnect with you! 🙏🙏 Thanks to God for His great love to you & to our families! 🙏🙏 Love from Anita xxx

'Walk lightly, for everyone has a burden to bear.' Quoted by my high school missionary music teacher Mr. Beaver.
We are all fallen beings living in this fallen world. We are so quick to blame on our unhappy childhood, or somebody elses' fault, but forget to take responsibility for our own choosing.
Mom, you have taught me many valuable life lessons, positively and negatively. I treasure them!
By God's grace, and His strength, may I live a life of His love, His sacrifice, His integrity...to break the chain of Satan, who intends to divide, to enslave, to destroy....all to His glory!
Mom, bye for now.
