“ Dear Terry,
Anita & Jackson, Judy & Christopher, Cassandra, Joshua, Olivia &
Alistair
Our Sincere Condolences on Johnson's Passing!

We have cherished memories of Johnson a brilliant top Accounting Student we met in 1957 at the Green Jade Restaurant. Thereafter we were privileged to have Johnson Wong as our Mentor our business Chartered Accountant and life long friend . His generosity, intelligence wide Knowledge guidance and integrity was invaluable as he assisted us in shaping, naming, setting up and developing our Architectural Practice Company. Johnson was always there for us, willing to help and advise when issues arose.

It is rare to find a friend like Johnson Wong who we hold in high esteem.

We will miss his presence and wisdom . We are blessed with the Legacy he has left with his daughter Anita Wong our Chartered Accountant carrying on.

Rest In Peace Johnson after an exemplary life well lived.

“ Uncle Johnson did so much for our family - from being our accountant for my family's restaurant, to helping out on many other personal matters, he was always there. My family would not be here today as we are, without his tireless efforts to help. We even lived in Killarney Heights to be close to him!

Rest in Peace Uncle Johnson

Thanks for helping give me and my family a great life.

“ From Newtown, then going west to Tamworth.

As our family lived not far from Uncle Johnson's house in Tamworth, we would visit his home on Sunday afternoon a few times a year. The visits were always full of laughter. For my parents, a very telling escape from the restaurant life. How we all ended up in Tamworth may have less to do with the saying 'go west young man' rather more to do with Uncle Johnson's magnetism.

Every visit, uncle never missed talking about the strawberries from his strawberry patch, and sharing the strawberries. He did the hard work, we shared in his success ! So influential was uncle, that I chose Accounting as a profession. Once I hit Sydney, it was not long before I worked in uncles first accounting practice, while I was studying. After graduation, I set off to work in the corporate world. Wait there's more - my younger brother also graduated, becoming an accountant.

On my parents behalf. Thank you Johnson and Terry for those lovely memories of time together, encouragement, advise and guidance, and much laughter.

“ Johnson was more than a friend to us - Terry was a bridesmaid at our wedding, and Johnson is the godfather of my younger son. Over the many years of our friendship we enjoyed doing things together as families e.g. holidays, playing golf, and going to clubs for dinner and entertainment. We will always treasure memories of these events. Johnson was my trusted accountant and his position has now been passed on to Anita who is equally efficient. One of the most amusing memories of my time with Johnson is the number of times he tried to teach me how to beat a poker machine using his secret method. He was an absolute wizard with these machines and my substandard maths brain could not follow him. Dear Johnson, if you find anything like these machines up there, I will try harder next time. “ Thank you Uncle Johnson for a life lived full, filled with love and care, and a very curious mind ! Yours and Terry's friendship with my parents (Edward and Josephine Oen) spanned many decades, and I know you were always there for them.

Love from Arnold Oen.

“ Dear family of Johnson Wong,

I can't say I really knew Johnson well. However my dad did. My dad, Percy Wong (no relation), was a restaurateur having come to Australia at an early age, working his way up to open a couple of restaurants. Johnson was his accountant, and as young hard working migrants they shared a common bond, building a life and family in those early years when the going was tough for young migrants from China.

Johnson was a trail blazer, providing accounting and financial services for the young Chinese business community from those early years, now a couple of generations ago. I recall stories each year of my dad collecting all his information - usually a mess - to provide to his trusted accountant Johnson, so that he could work his magic, and fix the mess! My dad Percy passed away only 3 weeks ago, so they can now catch up in heaven. There goes another part of a glorious generation to which us younger ones owe.

There's so many things to reflect on for Johnson's family on which they can all be very proud, and I can't profess to know but a fraction. One thing I do know is that he has a great family and that will be his legacy, particularly his children Anita and Judy, and all his grandchildren.

I have been good friends with Anita (an accountant) for over 25 years, and she continues to work hard in the successful accounting practice that bears his name. Her husband Jackson (also an accountant) was best man at my wedding. My wife Ciddy (an accountant) went to university with Anita and they remain good friends. Johnson was also friends with my late father in law, Michael Chan (an accountant) also of Killarney Heights. This is just but an example of the community which Johnson created and was a key part of.

May you rest in peace Johnson,

Ken Wong (yes, also an accountant...)

“ Uncle Johnson was such a magical man, he would always light up every room he walked into. His steadfast, generous friendship to our father, Henry, form a significant part of my early memories.

There are so many memories I have of Uncle Johnson, mostly entwined with time spent with Aunty Terry as well. So many dinners and conversations with much laughter and love.

I have a very clear memory of him educating me on the finer points of the form guide at Harold Park one Friday evening. Showing me his pencilled calculations, and factors that contributed to his thinking.

Thank you for the love, friendship and laughter. You will be fondly remembered by our family.

Sending love and strength to Terry, Judy & Anita and families.

“ In Memory of Uncle Johnson

I came to know Uncle Johnson through reading his letters from Sydney to my grandmother in Hong Kong and replied to him on her behalf when I was a kid. I found out how tough his life was as a student and worked at the same time to support himself. My grandparents and my mother were all very proud of him for achieving his Chartered Accountant designation and later on opened his own practice, serving especially the Chinese community there to provide them with good and genuine professional advice. He also looked after his friends and relatives from his home village in China. He's such a kind man with a big heart!

Uncle Johnson was so warm and welcoming when we sisters visited him in Sydney. Each time I saw him, his enthusiasm in life always amazed me. He was so cheerful, humorous and full of life. He enjoyed his retired life by pursuing interests in golfing, dancing, meeting friends, writing Chinese poems and calligraphy. It's incredible that he could still master his Chinese language so well after living in Australia for so many years. I am so glad I had the opportunities to read many of his poems, especially the one he wrote for us when we visited him in 2008. Uncle Johnson's kind and friendly face will always stay with us. His spirit will live forever with us.

Rest in peace Uncle Johnson !

*With respect,
Chuk-Ping*

“舅公，雖然我們相處時間不是很長，都係來澳洲旅行時的短短數天，多謝你同舅婆當時熱情的款待！印象最深刻是你開朗樂天的性格及幽默風趣的文筆，將你自己的一生記下的「打油詩」。希望所有懷念你的親人、朋友、後輩，都能藉著這首詩，紀念與你一起的一點一滴。

Rest in Peace!

“ In Memory of My Dearest Cousin Johnson Kai Lau Wong

To recall 45 years (1976), when I had a chance to go to Australia at the age of 24. I was very lucky to have my cousin, Johnson generously offered me a job in his CPA firm as well as a place to stay at Surrey Hill which was close to the office.

Before I returned to Hong Kong at the end of 1978, I stayed in Sydney for two and a half years, where I learnt a lot of accounting knowledge from Johnson and experienced different industries and practices from his clients. Really, by his good guidance, I saw a lot and benefited a lot. I met a lot of relatives and friends because of Johnson. He is always very helpful to and at the centre of friends and family.

After my return to Hong Kong, we kept in touch and were able to meet on multiple occasions. We even made a special tour to visit our home village in mainland China once.

In 1997, we were brought together by fate and met at London. Johnson and Terry were on holiday with their friends while I was visiting my son studying there at the time in London.

In 2002, I had the pleasure to invite Johnson and Terry to attend my Master of Accounting graduation ceremony at Curtin University, Perth. We met their old friends there also. It is conceivable that his friends were all over the world.

In the year of 2019, my wife and I together with three other cousins went to Sydney to visit Johnson and his family. We all got together happily, I can't imagine this is our last meeting.

I will miss you, my Dearest Cousin, Johnson Kai Lau forever!!

“ 從我六十年代來到澳洲，便已認識 Johnson。大家一齊踢足球，還一齊加入了華人飛鷹球隊。

我在七十年代開始做生意，Johnson 是我第一位會計師。他雖然不是一位生意的人，但因有他的指導，我的生意直至今天也沒有出現半點問題。他是一位勤力保守而正直的會計師，從他身上學到很多東西，至今仍受益良多。他是一個非常值得年青人學習的好榜樣。

Johnson 的為人……愛護妻子，照顧家人，待朋友真誠，朋友有困難一定幫忙。

他熱愛社交舞，又喜愛足球，下棋，麻雀，吹水……全無不良嗜好。

我們是60多年的朋友，風風雨雨都經歷過，如今您悄悄的離開，我將會永遠懷念您！

“ Dear Wong Family,

I first met Johnson in his city office, I was working for a finance broker at the time and was doing some marketing visit of our services.

Johnson knew of my family, greeted me with a smile and was not only welcoming, loved to share a story about whatever interaction he had with my Mum, Dad or Grandmother (Alan, Eileen or So Wai). He made me feel welcome in his Firm.

I will always remember his smiling face every time I saw him, which in later years was at Tony Fong's office, which was also partly his office as I was working from there.

Then in the dance studio as my Wife took up dancing, roping me in.

Our paths have somehow intersected all my life with his, and I am grateful on so many levels.

His leadership as an Accountant in the Chinese Community and role model as a person as a whole.

His positive impact on the lives of so many directly and indirectly is what I remember Johnson for, including my life.

We will miss you. Thank you and may you RIP Johnson from Lance Lai, The Lai Family and the Accountancy Invest Team.
