“Aunty Katherine and her husband Dr. Robert Yiu used to meet up with my late parents for lunches from time to time after they moved to Australia. The two families were connected due to a marital tie. After the passing of Dr. Yiu, there were a few years when I visited Aunty Katherine frequently. and we did shopping together sometimes. She took care of herself very well and shared with me the recipes of the food she made to keep herself youthful and healthy. I always marveled at her energy in handling a huge house and the expansive front and back yards. Aunty Katherine was gracious and resilient. She was a dedicated and loving wife, mother and grandmother. She had a good knowledge of the Chinese history and Chinese antiques. I was always fascinated by the historical background that she told me about the furniture and paintings in her house. Her mind was still so sharp!

Aunty Katherine, I am very sorry that I wasn't able to visit you at all in your final years due to my own circumstances. In eternity, we will meet again.

*Forever in my heart,
cho-wai cheung*

“ It's been my honor to reconnect with Aunt Katherine in 2011 shortly after my mom's passing. I cherish the visits to her home with my late mom when I was a child. I remain fascinated by the tales she told about the various pieces of antique furniture. The boat trips which she kindly invited our family also brought back fond memories. My neighbor's father is her peer at HKU medical school, and he mentioned that she played the role 王昭君 in a drama. Her elegance & beauty stayed on till the end, probably due to her good discipline in healthy eating throughout the years. Aunt Katherine's determination to stay independent until her final 8 months was extraordinary. Even in her frail state, she was constantly thinking of her children and grandkids. I shall miss her phone calls dearly, until we cross paths again in another dimension. May God grant her eternal rest. Agnes “ Katherine was the wife of my late first cousin Dr Robert Yiu. Robert was my guardian when I was reading medicine at the University of Hong Kong in 1965.

I always remembered Katherine as an elegant and graceful lady. She was well known for her beauty, and had won the title of Miss HKU when she was in the medical school at Hong Kong University (HKU). I also recalled seeing a photo of her dressed up in a Chinese opera costume and wondered whether she took part in some opera show.

They looked after me so very well during my years in Hong Kong and I am indeed touched by their love, kindness and care.

They have a beautiful 50-foot cabin boat as Robert loved the sea. My fondest memories during my time in Hong Kong were to be invited on many weekends on board their boat, experiencing for my very first time water skiing and wind surfing.

Robert and Katherine were always very generous, inviting me frequently to join them with their love for exquisite food.

Both of them shared the passion of collecting Chinese antique furniture. She would teach me about the construction and the various material used in these furniture. I loved to visit their lovely home at Rose Bay and admired their beautiful collection.

I will always remember fondly her kindness and closeness to me. She would make the effort to exchange Christmas cards with me for many years till recently.

*Dearest cousin Katherine,
We truly missed you. May you rest in peace with our Lord and with cousin Robert who is waiting for you in heaven.*

*God bless and with lots of love,
Stephen, Joan and Family.*

“ Mrs Yiu had always been a kind, considerate and thoughtful friend. She would always prepare some warm brunch for me whenever I visited. In the earlier days when I helped her with the shopping, she would buy cat food when she didn't have a cat. Knowing that I was curious, she shared the story of her late husband. When Dr Yiu was sick with cancer, he enjoyed sitting in the verandah, bathing in the sun, and Oscar the neighbour's cat would come and kept him company. Mrs Yiu had treasured that in her heart and gave Oscar a treat everyday while she was living there. As she could show such generosity & kindness to a small cat, you can imagine how much more she could be with her family & friends. I would missed you and your interesting stories. Rest in Peace. Love from Daniel & Carrie
