“ Words cannot begin to express how I feel right now.

I know I am being selfish when I say I wish you were still here with us. I just need time to comprehend that you are now at peace and in a better place.

I can still remember the days where you used pick me up from school and you would cook me my favourite dish - spaghetti. I will never forget how you always managed to bring the family together on special occasions and how you would make a big deal if we didn't come. I am truly grateful for this, as it gave us more time with you. I will forever cherish these special memories.

You will be in my thoughts, always. I miss you. I love you.
