“ My Eulogy for Susan - my grandmother,

I have thought long and hard about what I to say here today and as much as tradition states where we say Susan was this .... Susan was that - I don't don't think it's fair for me to tell you what she was. I believe the fairest thing I can do here today ... Is to tell you how I saw my grandma and the long lasting impressions she had on me.

For a woman in her lifetime that survived 2 wars , raised a family with 3 children, had immigrated to 4 different countries, helped raise 8 grand children, dealt with 2 separate cancers and has fought all the way to the end for the benefit and well being of her family ..... the 2 words "Strength" & "Supportive" are the words that I feel best described her.

I saw my grandma as a very very strong person, even right until the end.

I was given a first-hand look on how strong this grandmother was when as a young boy , when I had a weak temperament and was easily scared by the unknown & darkness. Like any youngster my elder relatives took the usual fun in scaring me as a small boy.

My grandmother showed me that there was nothing to fear - especially when you're holding a very large and sharp kitchen utensil.

She once said to me - after I quivered with fear that I saw a ghost....

"Show me where the ghost is..... And I'll show you what can be done to it.....,"

She showed no fear, she lead me not to be scared , she showed me how to have a fighters spirit.... In fact she had shown me that there was nothing to fear in life at all....

I largely believe my strength is derived from that one important moment in my childhood & which still continually keeps me in a state of mild fearlessness throughout my life.

Thinking about my grandma , many words described her , she was poised, she had tenacity & outright resilience - however "supportive" did seem to stand above all else, although I'm sure there are those whom would argue this point.

Grandma was the quintessential always "plate of food ready" no matter when or what time she would always be able to have a plate of mouth watering food ready for you too!

Her ability to nurture and educate me coupled together with her soft nature made my childhood (from what I remember with her) to be a very happy place.

In her later years, when her health deteriorated and she needed aged care, she was still helping me with advice on my now newly growing family.

It pains me to the core to say and above my grief and sadness, that I'll love you and miss you forever, I am the man I am today because of you and you'll forever be in my heart. Thank you for providing the strength and care in my childhood - and your unconditional love gave me courage beyond measurement .... thank you for always being there and thank you for never being judgemental.

I'll dearly miss you - as your strength lives on with me, so will your memories and all the great times we had together.

Love always

K
