“Chin 老师, you will be missed dearly! You have shown us the unconditional loves, and family values! I will never forget those happy hours we spent in the house in Bruas! Playing card games, mahjong and making popiah, were some of the happiest times for us. Those were the priceless memories! Thank you! May your soul RIP!

“ Our Chin family fondly remembers our Tai Q-Mei as an amazing, multi-gifted and loving Tai Q-Mei as well as an exemplary role model to all.

My late parents (Mr CHIN Chow Chew and Mdm LEE Kiat Chin)'s extended family have many happy memories together in Bruas, Malaysia and Sydney.

Ben and I were very glad to see our late Tai-Q and Tai Q-Mei enjoying themselves tremendously on their many Chinese community outings in Sydney when they visited us.

Our family have been very blessed and privileged to have our Tai Q-Mei enrich many lifes.

Rest in peace. May the peace and comfort of God continue to surround your family.

“... Beruas was settled differently but their respect for education is no different. It is quite common for Hakka parents in Beruas to take on three jobs or sell off a piece of their land to finance their son’s education in the mid-twentieth century. It was no secret that the Hakka used all their resources to educate sons. Daughters were not encouraged to study hard..... It was very rare to send girls for further education after they finished their Primary School, unless there was such a tradition in the family. This attitude improved slightly in the 1950s, after the arrival of a Hakka school teacher, Madam Chin Teik Chean (b. 1928), at the Pei Ching Chinese Primary School. She encouraged parents to send their children (including girls) to school. She even paid for the school fees of some of the poorer students.”

Madam Chin is remembered in my book, "Global Hakka: Hakka Identity in the Remaking" (2015, pg, 251). Her contribution to education in Beruas will always be valued and cherished. I, for one, am forever grateful to her for convincing my parents to send me to NZ for my tertiary education. Without her, I would not be what I am today. Thank you and may you rest in Peace.

“ I remember mdm Chin, your late mother, a soft spoken woman, gentle to all, a fine n faithful wife to her husband! a loving n caring mother to her children. I believe her grand n grand2 children love her as much. Though I have not met n seen her for decades, yet I fond of her too. I respected her as a good, responsible n a sacrificial teacher. A house wife who always make sure it is clean n comfortable her family to live in. She turn a house to be a home where there is love n happiness around as much as she can. This is the mother mdm Chin that I know n respected of. She leave a legacy that her children n generations is proud of n a sweet memories lane to treasure on, wish her rest in peace, n my deepest condolences to you, Chin Sin n family for losing a dear mom, take care 🙏🏻🙏🏻

“ Despite the language barrier, AhJia looked after us as newly wed living under the same roof. She'd give me tips here and there and making sure there was always fried rice as back up in the fridge. A gentle and kind grandmother and a great grandmother who loves a game of mahjong.
