“ Tina: I remember in one of my interactions with Sar Chim (aunty), she shared how she treasured her family. She said she uses most of her savings and pension funds to pay for get together meals like dinners. All her other acts of love in supporting her children and their families were reciprocated by their love and care for her. In my opinion, she is a role model of a loving mother and grandmother for her family.

The second thing that impressed on me was her approach and tenacity displayed in her life. Where others may feel reserved or shy, she is quite the opposite. I admire how with little knowledge of the English language in the past, she strove in improving her understanding and use of the language in her daily life. In conclusion, I will always remember her positive attitude and her admirable qualities.
